

Characterization

| Literary devices used to develop complex, yet believable characters: | Character's Name: Protagonist or Antagonist? | Character's Name: Protagonist or Antagonist? |
|---|--|--|
| Dialogue : Write dialogue used by the character that gives you a better idea of who he/she is. | | |
| Descriptions of thoughts : List the character's thoughts and reflections. | | |
| Appearance : List details about a character's appearance, such as clothes, hair, make-up, jewelry, shoes, etc. | | |
| Behaviors : List the character's behaviors. Notice the smallest details that give you clues to the character's emotions. | | |
| Feelings : List emotions experienced by the character, both implied and directly stated, such as sadness, anger, disgust, surprise, etc. | | |
| Analysis: What do these literary devices reveal about the character? | | |
| Conclusions: What is the character's motivation for decision, action, or change? | | |